First Half of Barium's Football Season

We have heard it rumored that there are readers of The Messenger who eagerly look forward to athletic news and are grievously disappointed when any issue fails to have an account of the current athletice doings.

Barium Springs has an up and coming football team this year. She also has basketball teams, both boys and girls, that stay in the upper bracket. Those who have played on these teams and those who have seen them play are always interested in the doings of the teams, so this article is going to bring you up to date on the first half of Barium's football season. It began back yonder on September 15th when Barium helped to dedicate another stadium. This is about six of these athletic arenas that Barium has helped to dedicate. This time it was Thomasville, and while the seating arrangements are still somewhat crude, the playing field is perfect. Barium had to dissapoint the Thomasville crowd by taking that game 12-0. The game started out as though it was going to be all Thomasville. Barium kicked off and in the first play from scrimmage on a wide end sweep a thomasville boy almost got away for a touchdown. He made about a 60-yard run, but Barium held and was lucky enough to recover a fumble at that critical stage of the game and went on to score but was unable to complete the point after touchdown. We breathed a little easier after that game and came back home and prepared for our next game, the opening home game for Barium Springs.

Well, maybe our boys breathed a little too easy after the Thomasville game because they did not wake up until after half of our first home game had been played and in that half, Children's Home, our opponent made 20 points. In fact, they made two touchdowns in the first five minutes of play.That Big Red Smith was the boy who did the damage. We were all very proud of the Barium team, however, in refusing to become demoralized. They pitched in and played a whale of a game from that time on, and really outplayed Children's Home in the second half and the Children's Home team was still at full strength. Children's Home scored in the third quarter: Barium scored in the fourth, with the final score being 26-6, for Barium's only defeat of the season.

On September 30th Mooresville came to Barium and Mooresville has a much heavier team than Barium. They have one excellent backfield man - Liner. Barium succeeded in holding this team one time within the ten-yard line. Mooresville had the ball first and ten on Barium's ten-yard line. Five plays, which included a five-yard penalty against Barium, they failed to score and we felt rather proud about that. The final score was Barium 27, Mooresville 0.

On October 7th Spencer came to Barium. Spencer was the team that tied Barium in 1948. We knew

Alumni News

We did not get any news in last months paper so some of this may old to you.

Rufus Long spent a few days at Barium the last of August. He was married to Peggy Bradford in the First Presbyterian Church of Kannapolis September 3rd. Rufus and Peggy are living in Philadelphia where he is doing graduate work at the University and Peggy is studying at the Art school. Joe Long was an usher in the wedding. He is a senior at the University of North Carolina.

Charles Woodrow was a visitor on the Campus. He is working in Concord.

Gwyn Fletcher, student at State College, was a visitor on the campus.

Dennis Boyette of Wilmington came by Barium while on his vacation.

Gloria and Gilda Whitfield are in Des Moines, Iowa, nursing at a Polio Hospital.

Theodore Brock, his wife and little boy were visitors on the campus. They live in Wilmington.

Thad Brock has been voted star of the Davidson College football team for the year 1937 and was chosen by the Alumni as the best end.

Leila Johnston is teaching Bible in the City Schools of Staunton, Va.

John and Dallas Ammons were visitors at Barium.

Herbert Good, Jerry Young, and Jack Mangum have entered A. S. T. C. at Boone. Charles Barrett, Amos Hardy, Mott Price and Ernest Stricklin have returned to Davidson College. Mildred Monroe, Hannah Price and Dewie Buie have returned to Flora Macdonald College. Margaret Bullard, Betty and Peggy Coffey, Anne Wicker and Dickie Arrowood are at Woman's College this year.

Jack McCall is back at the University of North Carolina. He had a trip to California this summer and while there saw Miss Moore at Pasedena, also Fred and Lucille Edwards.

Louise Harwell was married to Alvin Shumaker at high noon September 11 at Southside Baptist Church in Mooresville.

Irvin Squires was named chairman of National Firms Division of the 1950 Greensboro Community Chest campaign.

Conferences

It is amazing the number of conferences that are held from time to time by different groups of people. It seems at times as though the welfare people have more than any, until the question arises as to whether or not there is time to do any work between conferences! As we write this we have just attended a meeting of the North Carolina Orphanage Association in Winston-Salem. This was on October 4th. Two car loads went from Barium for this all-day meeting and as the name suggests it is made up of the orphanages, Catholic, Protestant, white and colored, of North Carolina. It was well attended and the sessions were lively and interesting and, we believe, helpful.

We were royally entertained by the Children's Home of Winston-Salem and the large attendance was no doubt partly due to the reputation which this fine institution has for entertaining visitors.

Superintendent A. D. Leon Gray of Oxford was president this past year and Mr. Moose, superintendent of the Nazareth Orphanage, was elected president for the coming year.

On October 11 and 12th a conference was held in Raleigh at the Sir Walter Hotel under the auspices of the State Welfare Department. This was so well attended that seating space in the ball room of the Sir Walter was taxed to capacity - standing room only. There were speakers from out of the State, from the Child Welfare League, from the Government, from the adjoining states, and from Duke University and Merideth College.

Next week there will be a protestant Conference on Child Welfare, October 18th and 19th at Columbus, Ohio. The writer of this article plans to attend that as this meeting is in preparation for the mid-century White House Conference which will take place next year. All of these conferences are worthwhile. It is difficult to know just

Cottage News

HOWARD COTTAGE

Here we are again with the news of our cottage.

We got report cards yesterday. Geraldine Hinant. Virginia Baucom. and Laura Jane Craig made the honor roll.

We went to Davidson to a football game. We saw them play Presbyterian College. There were eleven bands there. Although Davidson lost we had a wonderful time.

We went to see a show entitled: "Father was a Fullback." It was wonderful. Some of us even thought that it was better than "Mickey" a show we saw last year.

We got a box of assorted candy from the Sadie Blacknall Circle at Durham. We all enjoyed eating it during rest periods while we were stringing beans.

We have three new piano students at our cottage. They are: Mona Blake, Sylvia Wells, and Geraldine Hinant.

One of our family left us. Her name is Carolyn Holt, but we got another one in her place. Her name is Nancy Ferill of Charlotte, N. C. She is ten years old and is in the third grade. We all enjoy her being with us.

We all are excited, we are getting a new porch. Mr. Ervin and and his helpers have been work-on it for two days. We will be glad when they finish.

Look for us next month.

Your friends,
The Bean Stringers

ANNIE LOUISE COTTAGE

The first six weeks of school has drawn to an end. and report cards will be coming into view before long. All of you can keep your fingers crossed in hopes that not "too" many of us get bad grades.

Synod has come and gone but we surely did have a nice time while they were here. One afternoon we had a wonderful time at the movies. We went to the Playhouse to see "Sorrowful Jones." This picture was very good and we especially liked the little girl in the picture. A very nice thing that the men of Synod did for us was to give us all free show tickets. We enjoyed another very funny picture at the State. The name of it was "Ma and Pa" Kettle." We would like to thank the men for this wonderful thing they did for us. By the time Synod comes again to Barium many of us will be larger and we are really looking forward to this.

While Synod was here we had two girls from Woman's building

Large Crowd Here For Homecoming Event

The Homecoming Day which has just passed was in many respects the best ever. To begin with, the weather was perfect and the old-timers commenced to arrive even the night before and by pep meeting time there was quite a block of seats in the auditorium taken up by the homecomers. More and more children are appearing on the scene, and it may be necessary sometime in the future to set aside a day just for Barium grandchildren to congregate. They seem to get a great kick out of visiting the place they have heard their parents talk so much about.

Dinner this year was a barbecue, served cafeteria style and it took just 25 minutes for everybody to be served. They were still coming back for refills, however, an hour later.

The meeting of the Alumni Association was held immediately after this mid-day lunch and it lasted longer than it ever has; in fact right up to game time.

The football game was between Barium and Albemarle and is described elsewhere in this issue.

We wish it were possible to have the names of all of the ones who came back - about twice as many came for the dinner as came to the morning meeting - more than twice as many came to the ball game as were at dinner, and quite a number stayed for supper and were still at Barium for the midget game which took place on Saturday morning.

This midget game was played by a mixture of the 110 and the 125-pound teams. The opponent was the O'Donoghue school in Charlotte. The final score was 27-6. The playing of James Wheeler, Charles Faircloth, Dean Upton and Jimmy Johnson was outstanding, all of the team playing fine ball.

LEANING ON GOD

Self-suffiency seems to be one of the primary mistakes, even sins. of our present day - man's trusting in himself alone and in his own powers. But listen to the word of Jeremiah. "Cursed be the man that trusteth in man. . " But Jeremiah doesn't stop there, he goes on to paint a word picture of the life that is not founded on hope and trust in God.

Jeremiah would carry us in our imagination to a scene of desolation, a hot, dusty desert stretching on every side, fierce and unrelentless sunbeams bear down to destroy every green thing. Not a living animal is to be seen. Here and there a stunted, prickly little shrub struggles with the heat and barely manages to keep alive. On them are no leaves and no fruit. They only serve to make the desolation more desolate.

That, says Jeremiah, is a picture of a life that does not hope and trust in God. That life is blighted, it provides no fruits of service. There are many lives today like that, lives that are small and stunted without the life-giving grace of God shed upon them.

I. The Need For Trust In God.

The need was evident in Jeremiah's day, for he lived in a day of war and suffering. His people were anxious for the future, and the future seemed dark indeed. It was his people's need for God that prompted Jeremiah to write these challenging words.

Our own day has seen many of the experiences that were common to the time of the prophet. An uneasy peace has been substituted for war. About the world suffering has been abated somewhat but has not been dismissed. After the holocaust of war nations still have not learned to get along with nations. And all this does little to contribute to peace of mind. Fear and dread are still with us in such measure that we can safely say that the majority of people have learned little yet of the true way of inward peace, the way of leaning on God.

Possibly there will always be things to disturb and distress us in our personal lives. And it is also for this reason that we may profitably review the words of this great prophet in so far as he would teach us how to lean on God at all times.

New temptations and fewer restraints are meeting our boys and girls as they grow into manhood and womanhood. And life for young and old is not easy and I suppose that it has never been easy. In large degree it is not possible for us to alter life as we would like to do. But we can always alter our own approach to life. For what life means to us depends in the final analysis upon our own inward response to it.

We can go on in an attitude of self-sufficiency as so many are doing today. Yet that is the way of ultimate breakdown and despair. Or we can follow the advice of Jeremiah and other men of God. And that advice is ever to make God the anchor for our lives, in other words, to learn how to lean on God.

Perhaps the American people are as guilty of this attitude of self-suffiency as any other people, unless it might be completely pagan nations. We have thought of our strength; we have heard again and again that we are the most ingenous people on earth. We feel that what we do not have we immediately invent, and that our material goods, our wealth and power, are the greatest in the world's history. Certainly we should be patriotic, but not to the extent that we see our people and our land of plenty as all that we shall ever need.

II. The Source of, Trust.

The answer of course is, and can only be, God. Jeremiah expresses it this way, "Blessed is the man that trusteth in the Lord, and whose hope the Lord is." There is the source of our true confidence. Though there be evil in the world; though there be sorrow and suffering, yet blessed is the man who through it all trusts in God. James Russell Lowell put it this way:

"Though the cause of evil
prosper;
Yet 'tis truth alone is strong:
Though her portions be the scaffold,
And upon the throne be wrong.
Yet that scaffold sways the future,
And behold the dim unknown,
Standeth God within the shadow.

"Blessed is the man that trusteth in the Lord, and whose hope the Lord is." It is God who is our true source of hope and trust. We may hope in the power of His might. The psalmist witnesses to this truth. "The Lord reigneth, he is clothed with majesty, the Lord is clothed with strength." The great 121st. psalm rings out as a song of confidence. "my help cometh from the Lord" and "the Lord is my keeper." And then there is that great confession of faith in God, my strength, in whom I will trust; my buckler, and the horn of my salvation, and my high tower." Yes, we can trust in a God of might.

We may trust in the wonderful promises of God and his presence. All down through the ages the Word of God has rung with those promises of God's nearness. "Fear not. I am with the." "Certainly I Shall be with thee." And that promise of the Master, "Lo, I am with thee alway, even unto the end of the world."

And the Master's voice calms our fears with the words, "Come unto me all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest." And again, "These things have I spoken unto you, that in men ye might have peace. In the world ye shall have tribulation, but be of good cheer, I have overcome the world." There are the sources of our trust, in the power of God, in his unfailing presence, in the tender love and companionship of His Son, Jesus Christ.

III. The Reward of Trust.

"Blessed is the man that trusteth in the Lord, and whose hope the Lord is." There is our reward, we shall be blessed. We shall be blessed by the removal of fear. "God is our refuge and strength, a very present help, in time of trouble, therefore will not we fear though the earth be removed and the mountains be carried into the midst of the sea." "The Lord is my light and my salvation, whom shall I fear? The Lord is the strength of my life, of whom shall I be afraid?"

Not fear, but courage and confidence will be our lot when we trust in God. We are all familiar with Paul's experience when he was shipwrecked. He was being carried a prisoner to Rome. The ships of that day were tiny boats, they couldn't venture far out on the sea, but had to skirt along the shore. Any trip on the water was a dangerous undertaking. But the ship Paul was on somehow was caught out on the open Mediterranean in a frightful storm. All were afraid and despairing for their lives. All? Well, not all, not Paul. He, the prisoner, was the one to comfort and encourage those men accustomed to the sea. For Paul knew the courage and the confidence of one who trusts in God.

We began with one picture, a picture of desolation. We end with another. This time we see a green and living scene, a brimming river flows between meadows of waving grass. Healthy and flourishing trees stand firmly planted on the banks. Their roots are set deep in the moist and life-giving soil. Their boughs dip in the sparkling current, their branches are green with beautiful foliage. It is a living scene, a scene of beauty and life.

And that, says Jeremiah, is a picture of a life that hopes and trusts in God. And the one whose hope the Lord is "shall be like a tree planted by the rivers of water, that bringeth forth his fruit in his season, his leaf also shall not wither; and whatsoever he doeth shall prosper."

First Half of Barium's

they were a big team and we were really afraid of them and right at first we acted as though we were afraid of them by hurrying over touchdowns in just four plays. Barium received a short kickoff and started from her own 45-yard line. There were four plays. Marles carried the ball ten yards in two downs. Hillard carried it 45 yards in two downs, and during the first half Barium ran wild. In the second half Spencer settled down and finally scored, with the final score being 46 to 6, in Barium's favor.

Then came Homecoming Day, October 14th, and what a day that was. The largest crowd ever to gather for Homecoming was present. Albemarle was the team that was playing Barium. Albemarle was evidently pointing for this game; after a rather slow start she had improved and after a week's rest came in the pink of condition to entertain our Homecoming crowd. The game was broadcast, by the way. That was an inovation which added quite a bit of interest. Many of the Barium children were more interested in the broadcasting activities than they were in the game. I think if they had had portable radios they possibly would have set down somewhere behind a tree and listened to the game rather than watching it. The game started out nip and tuck, with Albemarle being a little more successful in stopping Barium runners than Barium was in stopping the big Albemarle runners. Things rocked along this way until about the middle of the second quarter when a punt landed in the arms of Hillard and Hillard lit out down the sidlines 53 yards for a touchdown. The placement was good, and Barium led 7-0. Time was running out in the half but Albemarle paid no attention to the clock - she kept on driving and plugging away and finally a beautiful pass landed in the arms of Helms who raced over for a touchdown. The attempt at pass for the extra point was not good and Barium led 7-6. During this half there was a blocked punt, there was a fumbled punt, there were two pass interference penalties, one against each team, and so many hairbreadth pass catches that one spectator just could not take it any more: he just proceeded to have a slight spasm and it took the intermission at half time for him to recover. Both teams evidently had pep talks from their coaches at the half, and they started in at the second half like two brand new teams. Albemarle was determined to make another touchdown: Barium was determined to add to the margin. They threw passes like wild men and finally following another touchdown and completed the extra point, making the score 14-6. Maybe they should have taken things easy after than, but no, they evidently wanted to entertain everybody, not only the ones who were watching the game but the ones who were listening to it over the radio, so after the kickoff there was another flurry of passes and Barium again scored and failed to kick the extra point, and then Barium relaxed just a little bit and it was just too bad because Albemarle came back and by some beautiful passes they scored again. This time the pass went to Kluttz who raced about 25 yards for the final touchdown of the day. The final score was 20-12.

There never has been a dull game between Barium and Albemarle. This was the thirteenth in the series. The Homecoming crowd were all quite interested in modern football at Barium. They noted that Barium now uses the platoon system. She changes centers whenever the ball changes. It takes both of these centers locked together to weigh as much as one full grown man. The one of them snaps the ball and the other tries to intercept the passes. That is the nearest that Barium has ever come to a platoon system and probably the nearest it will ever come to it. The two centers are Bob Whiting who weighs 140 pounds who is the offensive center and Donald Mitchell weighing 122 is the big brusing defensive center. After the game the Albemarle team took supper with us and went home as happy as a defeated team could be. There was nothing in their game with Barium to be ashamed of. Maybe luck was shining on the Homecoming entertainers as it generally does. The visiting old-time football players give the team on the field a lift that may be the difference between defeat and victory.

at our cottage. We surely hope they enjoyed staying at our house as much as we enjoyed having them.

All of you should just see our house! We have decorated it with blue, green, yellow, red and black lanterns. Mr. Calhoun and the babies came over to see it and they thought it was very pretty of course, we were very happy that they liked it.

The leaves on the Campus are just beautiful. If you pass by our Campus come in and drive under our trees. We guarantee that you will think they are as beautiful as we do.

To make our house even happier we have received a little new girl. Her name is Nancy Joyner. We know and feel quite sure that she will love Barium as we do the more she stays here.

The football games on Friday are very thrilling to watch especially when we are winning. The other day while our smaller boys were playing football we got to cheerlead. This is a lot of fun as all of you know who participate in the sport. We are trying to get into practice so that when we do get bigger we will know a little something about cheer leading.

Today was Barbara Porter's birthday. You remember the little girl that got her leg broken? All of us tried to do a little something to make her day happier. She was so surprised when she saw all of her gifts. We sincerely hope she will hurry back to us here at Annie Louise.

Our beautiful flower garden that we have had all summer is almost gone but under the loving hands of our matron we know that we shall have more beautiful flowers again next year.

Look for our news again next month.
